Mind on Fire: A Christian's Character Before God (Classics of Faith and Devotion) By Blaise Pascal

An Invitation to Reasoned, Passionate Faith

Mind on Fire is an easy-to-read translation of the classic Pensées by Blaise Pascal. Here the remarkable seventeenth-century mathematician, physicist, and religious thinker presents his uncompromising defense of the Christian faith a rigorous refutation of the myth that to become a Christian is to commit intellectual suicide.

Dr. James Houston has arranged Pascal's seemingly random meditations into a logical progression of thought the first time ever that an editor has carried out Pascal's original intention for his Pensées. Also included are selections from pascal's Letters to a Provincial, Pascal's own description of his conversion.

Dr. James Houston, editor of the CLASSICS OF FAITH AND DEVOTION, is a highly acclaimed scholar and pioneer in the field of evangelical spirituality. He came to North America from England in 1968 to lead Regent College in Vancouver, Canada, a worldwide center of spiritual formation.

Editorial Review

Review

In Mind On Fire, Blaise Pascal (a remarkable seventeenth century mathematician, physicist, and religious thinker) rigorously refutes the belief that to become a Christian you must first commit intellectual suicide. His burning conviction regarding the truth of the Christian faith produced writings that are still persuasive to the skeptical, the indifferent, and the hostile today. Drawn from his meditations, Mind On Fire contains Pascal's uncompromising defense of Christian belief, ably arranged by James Houston. Mind On Fire is a masterpiece of engaging theological scholarship. -- Midwest Book Review
