Editorial Review

From the Author

After reading over 200 books on leadership, self help, coaching, and mentoring I finally put it all together in one book. Deciding to Thrive.

Every penny the book generates will be donated to Children's Dyslexia Centers. A charity I am quite passionate about. Studies show that about one in five have some form of dyslexia. I know we can make a difference.

I also think Deciding to Thrive will have a profoundly positive impact on those that read it. A transformation for some, from being stuck to being successful and happy. And for others, the path to a dream life.

About the Author

John Wasserman, an executive with a $200-million-a-year international consumer-products marketing company, has coached thousands of people to create essential habits for personal and professional growth as they began their journey to success. He began in 1991 as a sales representative for Vector Marketing, selling CUTCO Cutlery in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. He is CEO of Fast Start, LLC, author of No Shorts, Flip-Flops, Or Sunglasses: How To Get And Make The Most Of Your First Real Job, a frequent public speaker and, as a Division Manager for Vector Marketing, responsible for more than thirty field office locations in the Philadelphia-New York region.
